MORAN AND JUDGE WIN MOOT COURT COMPETITION

Under the direction of Faculty Advisor, Wendell F. Grimes, the 1962 Boston Moot Court Competition came to a close Thursday evening, March 22, when Wayne Judge and Brian Moran defeated the team of Lewis Rosenberg and Arthur Rosenberg in the final round of the elimination competition.

Two weeks previously ten teams from the second year day division had begun arguing the pros and cons of a highly interesting problem concerning the validity of a certain redistricting plan for congressional representation proposed by the Legislature of the mythical Commonwealth of Bostonia. After several rounds of fine argument and some very close decisions four teams, consisting of David Curtis & Daniel Leary, Donald Cardwell & Anthony McManus, Judge & Moran, and the Rosenburgs, entered the semifinal round.

Judge and Moran bested Cardwell and McManus before a bench comprised of the Honorable Ernest W. Gibson, United States District Court for the District of Vermont, the Honorable Francis J. Good of the Superior Court of Massachusetts and the Honorable J.

Joseph Nugent, Attorney General for the State of Rhode Island; while the Rosenberg team outpointed Curtis and Leary in the estimation of the Honorable William F. Smith, Chief Judge, United States Court of Appeals, Third Circuit, the Honorable M. Joseph Blumenfeld, United States District Court for the District of Connecticut, and the Honorable David N. Edelstein, United States District Court for the Southern District of New York.

Judging the final round were the Honorable Charles S. Desmond, Chief Justice of the New York Court of Appeals, the Honorable Amos N. Blandin, Jr., Associate Justice of the New Hampshire Supreme Court, and the Honorable Francis B. Condon, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Rhode Island.

The practical experience in brief writing and in appellate advocacy which the competition provides makes it an outstandingly worthwhile experience for all contestants and in the words of the distinguished jurists the quality of the arguments made it an enjoyable and profitable experience on their side of the bench.

The team of Wayne Judge and Brian Moran will represent Boston College Law School in the National Moot Court Arguments to be held next fall.

RETREAT

The Annual Student Retreat conducted by the Law School for members of the Roman Catholic faith was held February 2 and 3, in Saint Ignatius Church adjacent to the Law School.

Reverend William S. Donaghy, Professor of Theology at Boston College and former President of the College of the Holy Cross, was retreat master during the two days of services.

Father Donaghy emphasized the importance of making a success of life and called on those present to apprise themselves of what true success really is. The retreat consisted of Mass, benediction and sermons followed by question and answer periods.

IN MEMORIAM. It is with sincere and deep regret that Boston College Law School records the passing of:

Kenneth J. Noone (II Day)
Brockton, Massachusetts, in February, 1962.

"ANNUAL AWARDS NIGHT" WILL BE HELD APRIL 28

The Law School spring dance, traditionally the highlight of the social calendar at Boston College Law School, has been designated this year as Annual Awards Night by the Board of Governors of the Student Bar Association.

The dance will be held at the Chestnut Hill Country Club (formerly the Commonwealth Country Club) on Saturday evening, April 28, from 8 p.m. until 1 a.m. The club is located on Algonquin Road just a short distance from the Law School. Social Chairman Dave Brauer indicated that one of the reasons this site was chosen was because of its simple accessibility to students who are unfamiliar with the Greater Boston Area.

As indicated by its new name, the Annual Awards Night will have, in addition to the program formerly offered, a 15-minute ceremony at 10 p.m. when members of the faculty and the student body will be recipients of awards to be made by the school, the Student Bar Association, and members of the Alumni.

These presentations will consist of all the awards which have formerly been made at intervals throughout the school year and at graduation ceremonies plus several new categories of awards to be initiated this year.

Among the presentations to be made are the Moot Court prizes for the Winners of the Bostonia Competition and the award to the freshman moot court team which submitted the best brief in freshman competition; also, the Thomas Macken Joyce Award, the John F. Cremens Award, the Lyne Woodworth & Evarts Award and the Fusaro & Fusaro Award which are given annually to members of the graduating class.

The Student Bar Association will make awards to certain faculty members to whom the students have indicated they would like to show some tangible appreciation for their efforts during the school year.

The Administration will inaugurate several new awards in recognition of heretofore unrewarded achievements by members of the student body.

In contrast to other years, the dress for this occasion will not be optional, the dance is strictly formal.

EDITORIAL

RE: ANNUAL AWARDS NIGHT

In a few weeks, the S.B.A.-sponsored formal dance will be held, and strangely enough, if the last two years are any indication, it will not be too well attended. We say strangely because everyone in the school has several reasons why they should attend.

Basically, everyone should participate in this, and all school functions, because only through this type of group participation and group interest can the bonds be created that will unite us as a student body and as an effective Alumni Association afterwards. Only through active members can there be an active organization and an inactive organization is ineffectual. This should go without saying but the evidence of student apathy toward extracurricular activity warrants its periodic repetition.

From a personal viewpoint, it has been an event thoroughly enjoyed by those who have attended in the past.

For the seniors it is undoubtedly the last time that so many of us will have the opportunity to spend a social evening together. For the senior class, as a class, it is the culmination of the friendships that have developed over three or four years of close association.

For the underclassmen it is probably the last "weekend out" that there will be time for until after exams. It is a ready made easily available second breath in the spring study push.

For the wives and girlfriends it is a well deserved night out that they will genuinely appreciate. Just stop and think for a minute, you may not have realized it as the year progressed, but you haven't gone out much during the school year have you? As a matter of fact, you didn't have time to.

Furthermore, it is an excellent opportunity for us all to get to know each other better, wives, dates, and fellow students. Hopefully, our paths will cross often in the future and the friendships we establish now can make life happier in the days ahead.

LAWTOMATION

In response to recent comments concerning the possibility of what has been termed "lawtimation," that is, the computation of legal research by machines, Howard Williams (III Night) has depicted what he fears may be the ultimate result in the cartoon below.

CANDIDATES' CORNER

Candidates for S.B.A. Office have been invited to submit statements in support of their candidacy. The following nominees have availed themselves of this opportunity.

In an effort to provide a service and not to take sides in the election, SUI JURIS extended this invitation to ALL of the candidates and ALL copy that was submitted is reprinted below.

MICHAEL J. DORNEY

The S.B.A. is a service organization. If we are to capitalize upon the many improvements made therein over the past few years, we must now strive to increase the quality of the existing services and make selective additions to their ranks. Serving as a national officer in the American Law Student Association over the past 12 months. I have been in close contact with law student groups throughout the country. It was my duty to discuss with law student leaders their plans and problems, thus covering a wide variety of projects and services. Now their experiences can be brought to bear upon our problems. We note, for instance, that other Associations have found "$100 limit" student loan funds to be both feasible and widely appreciated. It goes without saying that the recent progressive S.B.A. placement program should be continued, but we can supplement this effort by use of methods, with which I am familiar, employed by other law student groups.

Boston College Law School now has the opportunity of placing one of its students in the Presidency of the American Law Student Association. The resulting widespread publication of the name of this law school would inure to the benefit of all. The last four students elected to the National Presidency represented their respective schools as Student Bar Presidents. This evidence of student backing has proved to be an essential prerequisite to election. Holding these two offices simultaneously enables the student to perform the duties of each more efficiently. I present these facts for your consideration.

WILLIAM F. PAQUIN

As a nominee for the office of S.B.A. Treasurer, I feel that I have the necessary qualifications to ably serve the members of the student body of the B.C. Law School. I am 26 years old, a graduate of Assumption Prep and Providence College, where I received a B.S. degree in Management in 1957. While in college I was on the Dean's Honor List for four years and served as Managing Editor of the school paper and as Business Manager of the glee club. I entered the U.S. Air Force in 1957 and upon my release from active duty, entered the insurance business as a partner in the William H. Paquin Agency in Providence, R.I. I have held elective offices in various civic and social organizations. If I am elected, I feel that I will bring to the office the qualities of industry, perseverance and maturity of judgment.

Perhaps the proof that I am the person best qualified to serve as S.B.A. Treasurer can be found in the following quote from a treatise which will be published shortly.

"Bill Paquin, commuting daily to the B.C. Law School, is noted among his classmates for his maturity, intelligence, charm, good looks, and, most important of all, his modest attitude toward his own achievements." This historically significant work, "Paquin—Great Men Who Have Known Me," will undoubtedly be known as the great weight of authority in its field.

CHARLES C. TRETTER

I feel gratified to have received the nomination from my class for the office of President of the Student Bar Association. The importance of this office to the proper functioning of the many activities of the student body both within the law school itself, to the professional community, and to the general public cannot be overstated. In the past year great strides have been made in the varied areas of student activities; placement, the forum, moot court, the social program and SUI JURIS. Sitting on the Board of Governors of the Student Bar Association as President of the second-year day class has allowed me to gain the experience and, I think, the ability to sustain such progress and to accelerate it further. No promises will be forthcoming, save one, it being simply that I shall try to do my very best. Therefore, I now ask your consideration of my candidacy for this vital office.

ART PODOLSKY

To bore my fellow students with a lengthy and to them meaningless list of my offices and honors in undergraduate days will, I feel, be unnecessary. Let me merely state that I feel my previous college experience is sufficient to well qualify me for the Presidency of the S.B.A.

My campaign is based on two promises that I am fully prepared to carry out. First, I have not taken nor committed myself to any other office either in this school or anywhere else. This will leave me completely free to devote all my time to this school and its students. Secondly, I promise to continue and advance the fine beginning made by the S.B.A. in regard to placement and student relations.

These, then, are the only two promises I make and it is on these two promises that I hope you will give me the chance to serve you.

JOSEPH H. SPAIN

Candidate for S.B.A. Treasurer is a '61 graduate of Manhattan College, where he received his degree cum laude in Electrical Engineering. Hailing from Troy, New York, he was elected and served as Representative of the School of Engineering on the Manhattan Student Council. As an undergrad he was appointed Chairman of the Student-Faculty Relations Committee and was President of Eta Kappa Nu, the National Electrical Engineering Honor Fraternity. Serving as Chapter Historian, he was in the Pi Sigma Chi fraternity at Manhattan. At B.C. Law, while not a member of any organizations, he has been an active participant at S.B.A. and student body affairs. During the 1960 campaign he worked as student chairman of the Registration Committee of the Bronx County Chapter of Citizens for Kennedy and Johnson, serving under Chairman Robert M. Morgenthau, present United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York.

ANNUAL LECTURE

BOSTON COLLEGE LAW SCHOOL FORUM members greet Israel's Ambassador to the United States Avraham Harman, the 1962 lecturer at the annual Law School Forum. Left to right are B.C. Law School students Lewis Rosenberg, Newton; M. Donald Cardwell, Winchester, Kentucky; the Ambassador; and Donald Quinn, West Newton.

On Thursday, February 1, the Law School Forum inaugurated the Annual Lecture Series. The Annual Lecture is designed to be the apex of the Forum Program each year and will present distinguished jurists, diplomats, scholars, and government officials who have made significant contributions to the welfare and enlightenment of the world community.

At this first Annual Lecture the Forum was honored to have as its distinguished speaker the Honorable Avraham Harman, Ambassador of Israel to the United States, who addressed the audience on the topic "The Next Phase in Israel."

Mr. Avraham Harman was born in London in 1914. After completing his secondary schooling in that city, he graduated in law from the University of Oxford in 1936.

In 1940, after duty with the Zionist Federation of South Africa, Mr. Harman settled in Palestine where he was employed for the following eight years by the Jewish Agency.

Mr. Harman first came to the United States in October, 1950 as Director of the Israel Office of Information and, concurrently, as counselor to the Delegation of Israel to the United Nations.

In 1953, Mr. Harman was appointed Consul General of Israel in New York and served in this capacity until 1955. Upon his return to Israel in that year, he was appointed Assistant Director General of the Ministry for Foreign Affairs in Jerusalem.

In 1956 he was elected a member of the Executive of the Jewish Agency, a position he held until his appointment as Ambassador of Israel to the United States in June, 1959.

Due to his close relationship with the government of Israel during both its formative and operative stages, Ambassador Harman was especially qualified to present his views on "The Next Phase of Israel."

WILLIAMS TELLS AFRICA'S NEEDS

The United States plans a sharp rise in economic aid to Africa next year, but will still be far short of the aid extended by Europe, G. Mennen Williams, assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, said at an appearance before the Law School Forum on March 29.

He said European Countries are far ahead of the United States in providing economic and technical assistance to African nations.

"We are asking Congress to allot between $350 million and $430 million in economic aid to Africa in fiscal 1963, compared to $250 million for the current fiscal year," Williams said, "but it will still fall below the level of that provided by Europe."

The Secretary said with 18 of Africa's 29 sovereign nations having gained their independence in the past two years, Africa is presenting a great challenge in its change.

He listed the great aspirations of the people as a burning desire for freedom and independence, equal dignity with the rest of mankind, both personal and national, and improved standards of living. Williams was introduced by Dean Robert F. Drinan.

FORUM ANSWERS
CRITICS OF HASS

The Boston College Law School Forum presented Mr. Eric Hass, Editor of The Weekly People, the official organ of the Socialist Labor Party, on Thursday morning, March 1, 1962. Mr. Hass spoke on the subject: "The Alternative to Nuclear War." Notable in his remarks was the promulgation of the idea that the Socialist Revolution, when it comes, will be a "peaceful" revolution, i.e., the electorate of this country would, when ready, vote into office enough Socialist Labor Party candidates to implement the restructuring of our whole political system upon an industrial and occupational framework, rather than the geographic and somewhat arbitrary basis that now exists.

Mr. Hass' appearance was well attended by members of the Law School Student Body and Faculty, and a lively question and answer session followed the remarks of the principal speaker.

Much criticism was leveled at the Morning Forum Committee for granting Mr. Hass a platform from which to propagandize and distribute Party literature. When asked for his comments on the criticism of his fellow students, J. Ronald Fishbein, Vice President of the Law School Forum said: "The personal political views of the members of the Morning Forum Committee in no way influence the choice of speakers. A fortiori, a speaker will not be denied a Forum merely because his views are tainted in the opinion of the audience. The Forum would be remiss were it not to expose the students at the Law School with as wide a range of topics and diversified speakers as possible. This it has endeavored to do, and, it would appear, has successfully done. Many of our speakers have presented controversial subjects, taking positions not always in accord with the political, philosophical or religious beliefs of those in attendance. It is hoped that those of us who profess contrary views if nothing more, have been exposed to alternative points of view."

A.L.S.A. DELEGATES CONVENE IN N.Y.C.

Joseph L. Cotter and Mike Dorney represented Boston College Law School at the Thirteenth Annual Northeastern Conference of the American Law Student Association held in New York in mid-March. Students from the First and Second Circuits attended panel discussions conducted by present day leaders of the legal profession designed to introduce law students to the professional problems and responsibilities they will face upon admission to the bar and acquainting them with the opportunities and obligations present for improving the administration of justice through the organized bar. Highlight of the convention was the conference banquet where participants were addressed by Louis Nizer, trial attorney and author, and the Honorable Richard J. Hughes, Governor of the State of New Jersey.

In his capacity as Vice President of the First Circuit, Mike Dorney presided over the Student Bar Workshop session where representatives from the 15 participating law schools presented their plans and discussed current problems in their student bar associations.

Mr. Paul Cox of Suffolk Law School was elected to succeed Dorney as Vice President of the First Circuit for next year.

FROSH END MOOT COURT

The petitioners and respondents of the freshman class presented their arguments on criminal, contract, tort, and procedural problems in the Moot Court Session which ran from March 26 to 30. Third year students, together with second year Moot Court participants judged the arguments and delivered a criticism of the briefs and oral presentations in order that the participants might gain the fullest value from their efforts.

Through the generosity of Mr. J. Howard Manningham, President of the Boston Law Book Company, two three-volume sets of the Massachusetts General Laws Annotated on the Commercial Code will be awarded to the team which submitted the best brief in the competition. Professor William Cotter will judge the quality of the briefs and the winners will be announced and presented their awards at the Annual Awards Night to be held April 28.

The oral arguments proved extremely successful. This year, the freshmen had an advantage, never enjoyed by their predecessors, in having the opportunity to witness the Bostonia Competition prior to their own arguments. This afforded them a close look at expert appellate argument conducted before leading members of the state and federal bench. Also, no small credit should be given to the newly formed Moot Court Advisory Committee who gave their time in an attempt to assist the freshman teams in focusing clearly upon the issues and presenting their cases in a lawyer-like fashion. The guidance and advice of this group was apparent in the high caliber of work done by the freshmen.

Professor William A. Cotter, Jr., Faculty Advisor, and Chairman Daniel W. Shea expressed deep satisfaction in Committee Members Joseph Birmingham, Charles Dixon, Henry Herman, Francis Lawlor, John Madden, Lawrence Markell, Robert Martin, Neil Millert, Wilfred Sanders, William E. White, Jr. and David Woronoff.

LAW REVIEW EDITORS HAVE ALL SECURED JOBS

The entire Board of Student Editors of the Law Review have accepted permanent positions upon graduation in June. With the competition among job-seeking seniors from all law schools becoming more intense each year, the announcement that every editor has acquired a position this early in the year is an accomplishment for which both the school and the Review can be proud. The employment accepted by the editors is diverse in scope and varied in nature, forming no set pattern except the complete satisfaction by each man that his job is what he wanted. The positions range from blue-chip Boston firms and coveted clerkships to specialized fields in New York City.

Robert Martin, Editor-in-Chief, will be associated with Mirick, O'Connell, DeMallie & Lougee of Worcester. Martin was a Moot Court participant during his second year and is a graduate of Holy Cross.

SPRING EDITION OF LAW REVIEW WILL BE OUT IN MAY

The Law Review is currently in the process of completing its Spring edition, scheduled for an early May publication date.

Article and Book Review Editor Richard Colman reports that four lead articles are anticipated for the Spring edition. Eugene D. Anderson, Associate in the firm of Pope, Ballard and Loos, Washington, D.C., has submitted an article dealing with "piggy-back" plans, a term used to describe the transportation of motor vehicles on railroad flat cars. The article will deal with problems arising under the Interstate Commerce Act, and should be quite timely in view of a recent ICC decision giving approval to the five basic plans utilized by the railroads.

A Boston practitioner, William F. Looney, Jr. an associate in the firm of Goodwin, Proctor and Hoar, has written an article delving into the problems arising under state statutes governing valuation of a dissenting stockholder's stock upon corporate merger.

A third article, written by Bernard I. Kaplan, a partner in the Boston firm of Kaplan and Kaplan, concerns itself with the provisions of the "asphalt clause," a provision inserted in a government consent decree whereby the defendants agree not to contest the prima facie effect of the decree.

Jerome E. Weinstein, a member of the Massachusetts bar, has authored an interesting article entitled "Problems in the Field of State Securities Regulation."

Other writings in the forthcoming edition will include three interesting book reviews: "The Gentlemen Conspirators" by John Fuller will be reviewed by John Bodner, Jr., a partner in a Washington law firm. "Expulsion and Oppression of Business Associates: 'Squeeze-Outs' in Small Enterprises" by F. Hodge O'Neal, will be commented on by Professor Harry G. Henn, of the Cornell Law School; and "Bargaining in Grievance Settlements" by Professor Kuhn will be reviewed by Walter A. Maggiolo, Adjunct Professor of Law at the Georgetown University Law School.

A significant change in the Review's format, which should be an invaluable aid to practitioners and members of the pedagogical ranks of the legal profession, will be the exhaustive, up-to-date treatment given to the Significant Articles Section of the Review. Research

Editor Carroll Dubuc has indicated that the new cumulative index will be carried in both Winter and Spring editions as contrasted with a previous one edition coverage. The index will include a selected list of significant law review articles, which have undergone a qualitative analysis and evaluation by the Editorial Board of the Review in conjunction with members of the library staff. The Review will continue its policy of nationwide coverage of all significant law review articles, with a cut-off date of January 1, 1962. However, the Spring issue and all subsequent editions will also feature a list of articles, up to, and including the month of publication, selected from a list of 15 major law reviews. A partial list of the reviews include: The ABA Journal, Anti-trust section; Bankruptcy Reporter; Commercial Law Journal; and such notable reviews as Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Columbia and Stanford among others.

By providing subscribers and readers with this current ready-research list of selected law review articles, the Boston College Industrial and Commercial Law Review has again shown the high editorial standards that are synonymous with its name.

The Spring issue will also contain a Student Comment in the field of Labor Law, as well as Case Notes in the Commercial Law fields.

REVIEW EDITORS AT NOTRE DAME

The Eighth National Conference of Law Reviews convened on April 6 and 7 at the University of Notre Dame Law School, South Bend, Indiana. Editors-in-chief from throughout the country attended the conference and discussed the perennial problems that confront student-run law reviews. Present editor-in-chief Robert Martin and newly appointed editor-in-chief Richard Gaberman of the Boston College Industrial and Commercial Law Review represented the Law School at the conference.

Distinguished members of the Bench, Bar and law school faculties addressed the conference and forum discussions were held on such topics as staff selection—structure and control, lead articles and book reviews, and business management. On Saturday evening, April 7th, a banquet ended the conference at which Burke Marshall, Assistant Attorney General in charge of the Civil Rights Division, U.S. Department of Justice spoke.

AUSTRALIAN CRIMINOLOGIST ADDRESSES FORUM

Professor Norvel Morris, Australian Criminologist and Visiting Professor at Harvard Law School, addressed the gathering at the Forum Program on March 6 when he discussed "Morality and the Criminal Law."

In an entertaining manner, Professor Morris examined the relationship between the criminal law and such problems as gambling, homosexuality, adultery, contraception and abortion. While his remarks were somewhat inconsistent with the view of many in the audience, this relationship as he viewed it, is presently accepted in England.

Following his remarks, Professor Morris and the students engaged in a lively question and answer period.

Law School students and their friends are cordially invited to attend Boston College Night at the Pops, Symphony Hall, Sunday evening, May 13, 8:30 p.m., Arthur Fiedler conducting. Tickets are priced at $3.50, $3.00 and $2.50 (Group Parties arranged). Call DE 2-3200, Ext. 251 for information.

CRIMINAL SEMINAR VISITS PRISONS

Students enrolled in the Criminal Law Seminar conducted by Professor Sanford Fox have been visiting state correctional institutions over the past months. These trips have been arranged to better acquaint the students with the actual mechanics employed by Massachusetts in the rehabilitation of its convicted criminals and juvenile delinquents.

Among the institutions visited thus far are Walpole State Prison, the Youth Service Board Reception and Detention Center, and the Lyman School. The information and knowledge gained at the latter two institutions have been particularly pertinent since the seminar has focused on juvenile delinquency this semester.
